

The tour will include Balmoral, the Royal Family's summer residence

A taste of Scotland

CAROLYN ROBB, The Prince of Wales's former chef, is leading a five-day culinary trip around Scotland. It starts in Edinburgh with a visit to the Palace of Holyroodhouse and a private tour of the Royal Yacht Britannia and takes in the University of St Andrews, the Cairngorms National Park, Dunkeld Smokery, the Royal Lochnagar Distillery—a favourite of Queen

Victoria and Prince Albert—and Balmoral Castle, plus a series of sumptuous suppers cooked by Carolyn, who worked for the Royal Family for 13 years.

Tours run from April 19 to October 4, 2015 and prices start from £2,895 per person. To book, contact Back-Roads Touring Co (<http://backroadstouring.com>; 020-8987 0990).
