Carolyn Robb: The Royal Touch, a worldwide food and culinary brand, launches this year. She has been a world-class chef, food writer, and culinary expert for 25 years. Robb spent 11 of those years as the executive chef to THR Prince Charles, Princess Diana, Prince William, and Prince Harry in Kensington Palace. She is the youngest and first female chef to obtain this position for THR Prince Charles, according to the company.

Blue Sky International announced that it will introduce Carolyn Robb: The Royal Touch brand in Japan for all classes of trade this year.

In July 2012, Southern California grocery chain Gelsons is expected to roll out The Royal Touch exclusive line of gourmet cakes and deserts. It will start with Robb's famed Royal Biscuit Cake recipe, as used at Prince William's wedding, according to the company.
